Risk Disclosure

Investments in Bonds (Debt security) : A bond is a debt security issued by government or corporates with a promise to pay periodic interest payments and to repay the face value on the maturity date. The price of bonds fluctuates with changes in interest rate; a rise in interest rate may result in a decrease in the value of the bonds. The bond holder faces 'default risk' as there is a risk that the issuer may not be able to meet their future obligations (capital/interest) resulting in financial losses.

Fund Specific : The fund is invested in the bonds asset class, therefore is subjected to the asset class inherent risks e.g. interest rate and default risks.

Risk Profile : A rating based on the inherent risk (statistical measures: volatility, value at risk) of the financial instruments held in the portfolio. At the lower end of the risk spectrum are the low risk portfolios (suitable for investors with a short-term view) which typically invest in the fixed interest market with potentially lower expected returns and at the higher end of the risk spectrum are the medium-high/high risk portfolios (suitable for investors with a longer-term view) whose asset allocation are tilted towards the equity market with potentially higher expected returns.

Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of risk.
