Fund Objective

The objective of the fund is to achieve superior growth over the long term at the risk of an increased probability of short term volatility.

Fund Risk Profile

The Aggressive fund of funds aims to maximise growth over the long term, hence, maintains a high level of exposure to growth assets (typically equities). While equities offer the highest expected long-term returns, it also comes with the highest risk of short-term losses. The fund is also invested across the lower end of the risk spectrum including Properties, Bonds and Cash, making the fund less risky than a pure equity fund.

Risk Disclosure

Investments in Equities (Company Shares) : The value of equities may vary according to expected future earnings/profits as well as broader market factors. As such, a positive sentiment about a company's future prospects could lead in an increase in its share price which would result in a capital gain for its shareholders. Similarly, a negative sentiment could result in a share price decline which would translate into a capital loss for its shareholders. Shares/equities are usually considered to have the potential for the highest return of all the investment classes, but with a higher level of risk i.e. share investments have the most volatile returns over the short term.

Investments in Bonds (Debt security) : A bond is a debt security issued by government or corporates with a promise to pay periodic interest payments and to repay the face value on the maturity date. The price of bonds fluctuates with changes in interest rate; a rise in interest rate may result in a decrease in the value of the bonds. The bond holder faces 'default risk' as there is a risk that the issuer may not be able to meet their future obligations (capital/interest) resulting in financial losses.

Fund Specific : The fund is invested in both equities and bonds asset classes, therefore is subjected to the asset classes inherent risks.

Risk Profile : A rating based on the inherent risk (statistical measures: volatility, value at risk) of the financial instruments held in the portfolio. At the lower end of the risk spectrum are the low risk portfolios (suitable for investors with a short-term view) which typically invest in the fixed interest market with potentially lower expected returns and at the higher end of the risk spectrum are the medium-high/high risk portfolios (suitable for investors with a longer-term view) whose asset allocation are tilted towards the equity market with potentially higher expected returns.

Glossary of Terms

Volatility is a statistical measure of the dispersion of returns for a given security or market index.

Tracking error is a measure of the risk in an investment portfolio that is due to active management decisions made by the portfolio manager; it indicates how closely a portfolio follows the index to which it is benchmarked.

Information ratio, is a measure of the risk-adjusted return of a portfolio. In this case, it measures the active return of the manager's portfolio divided by the amount of risk that the manager takes relative to the benchmark.

Sharpe Ratio is a measure for calculating risk-adjusted return. It is the average return earned in excess of the risk-free rate per unit of risk.

Beta is a measure of the volatility, or systematic risk, of a security or a portfolio in comparison to the market as a whole.
